In the fifty-six years since the end of the Second Vatican Council, our Church has experienced many changes and challenges. Depending on what one reads or hears, the Church is experiencing what is probably its worst period of crisis since the reformation. There is no doubt that our Church is undergoing many major challenges: globalization; new bioethical issues; the emergence of other major non-Christian religions; increasing secularization; the sex abuse scandals within the Church; to name a few. It is a critical period in the Church's life when millions of her faithful are confused about their beliefs. They are uncertain about what as Catholics they are to hold.

This paints a very 'doom and gloom' picture for us, but it is important that we don't lose heart (or faith!). These issues need to be faced and challenges need to be met, of course, and we need to place trust in our Church to continue its mission. Each one of us, in our own small way, can participate in that mission.

The mission of the Church, as the mission of Jesus, involves being sent out into the world – to love, to serve, to preach, to teach, to heal, to save, to free. The Second Vatican Council sought to renew the Church's life and activity in the light of the needs of the contemporary world. The Council emphasized the Church's missionary nature.

Our Church is a sacrament of Christ – a sign of his presence in the world. The Dogmatic Constitution on the Church, (Lumen Gentium) stated that "the Church, in Christ, is in the nature of a sacrament - a sign and instrument, that is, of communion with God and of unity among all. It has been set up by Christ as a communion of life, love and truth; by him too it is taken up as the instrument of salvation for all, and sent on a mission to the whole world as the light of the world and the salt of the earth"

All of us, empowered by the Holy Spirit, must "make the name of Jesus known and loved". All the programs and activities of a parish can build up the Church's mission and should be prioritized for that purpose. As the Church is made up of the people of God, ALL of us –regardless of what roles we have –need to work together collaboratively. Just as we all need support in our lives, so does our Church.

GIFT PROGRAM—Growing in Faith Together.

St. Joseph's Parish Nambour, through our GIFT Program (Growing in Faith Together) have been journeying with James Jan Riley and Craig Yaxley, in preparation for the celebration of their Confirmation and Holy Eucharist.
