This weekend we welcome Fr Thomas Ismoyo who will preside at Masses

John 14: 23 – 29

During the Exodus from Egypt, God came to dwell with Israel by His presence in the Tabernacle. God displayed His presence to the people through the manifestation of the Glory Cloud, known as the Shekinah. Later in Israel's history, on the day of consecration of the Temple constructed by Solomon, the Shekinah would fill the newly built Temple. The presence of God remained in the Temple until Jerusalem fell to the Babylonians in 587 BC, and the Temple was destroyed. The presence of God manifested through the Shekinah did not, however, return to the Temple built after Israel's return from exile in Babylon seventy years later.

In Baptism, we become the Temple of the Holy Trinity. It is to this living temple that Jesus is promising the presence of God. Through keeping the commandments of God we show our love for God. God seeks out the soul that has strayed away from Him, and we have all strayed in our own way. Jesus is giving an assurance that God will draw close to those who strive to draw close to Him. In fact, Jesus promises a close intimacy; God will come to dwell in the person who loves Him and tries to keep His commandments. Jesus promises to give such a person a peace the world cannot give –the original peace (Shalom) and harmony that Adam and Eve experienced prior to their fall.

We may not always experience this state of peace in the busyness of life. We are often distracted or upset by things happening to our families, to our work or in the wider world. Our hearts are not, however, to be troubled. God has come to dwell in us here on earth, so that we might dwell in God in eternity. It can be good for us to remind ourselves that the peace that Christ gives is beyond our earthly troubles. Julian of Norwich, a 14th century mystic who saw Christ reigning in her heart, received Christ's message, "I will make all things well, I shall make all things well, I may make all things well; and you shall see for yourself that all things shall be well."
